

PLEASE no cellular phone use on airborne aircraft unless in the case of a dire emergency. A seat on the airplane has become the last bastion of respectful, courteous, quiet behavior - it's bad enough the people surrounding the boarding area can't seem to stop shouting incessantly into their phones. To endure that for the flight's duration will certainly give me pause in scheduling flights at all. "Second-hand" cell phone on an airplane becomes just as disturbing and mentally un-healthy as second-hand smoke was...
